This is one that started it all for us. during 1998 and 1999, caldor and i took road trips on many weekends throughout the upper midwest. it started out by exploring various cities, often driving around aimlessly. eventually we wanted to get out and stretch our legs, so we'd look for public places we could [...] Start and title index page tunes for musicians and bands playing in sessions, from irish, bluegrass, old-time, appalachian, english, canadian, scottish and european traditions, with downloadable, printable, free sheet-music, tabs for mandolin, midi backing tracks and mp3. Ideally i would have used a gif of this but there are none! the internet is fucked, but the tl;dw is jon pertwee wrestling with a man in a big stone mask while someone plays the wobble-board. This is a story about the deep history of cheshire and the gandys, the hindleys & the birchalls who lived there. it is distorted by the mists of time and perhaps by personal prejudices, but nevertheless the tale is inspirational because deeply buried amongst the myths & contentions there are some robust & resilient insights otherwise the story wouldn't have survived. The vast majority of comments i get on my blogs are about cholesterol and/or statins. i find myself saying the same things over and over again, so this post is the one that i'll now refer queries to – it should answer most of the worries that people seem to have.

The property is a really bright, beautifully furnished one bedroom secure flat in a apartment building. the flat comfortably sleeps two, with a large bright kitchen/living area and has been furnished stylishly and distinctively and the large windows offer spectacular views over the constantly changing skyline of manchester city centre.
