General resources on the arts and humanities; art museums Art deco, sometimes referred to as deco, is a style of visual arts, architecture and design that first appeared in France just before World War I. Art deco influenced the design of buildings, furniture, jewelry, fashion, cars, movie theatres, trains, ocean liners, and everyday objects such as radios and vacuum cleaners. It took its name, short for arts décoratifs, from the Exposition Bopoma community music a community-based centre for teaching and performing the music of Zimbabwe and southern Africa. Moondance Arts and the Art House American colonial art of the seventeenth century. The 17th century saw the first concerted and successful attempts by Europeans to settle in the United States, but the problems and time-consuming difficulties of creating new communities in a new world did not leave the settlers much leisure or energy to devote to the visual arts.
