Chesterton wrote around 80 books, several hundred poems, some 200 short stories, 4000 essays, and several plays. he was a literary and social critic, historian, playwright, novelist, catholic theologian and apologist, debater, and mystery writer. he was a columnist for the daily news, the illustrated london news, and his own paper, g. k.'s weekly; he also wrote articles for the encyclopædia
Check out the best, the funniest, the most profound and insightful quotations of the english writer, g.k. chesterton."the roman catholic church has the unique power of keeping remote control over human souls which have once been part of her. g.k. chesterton has compared this to the fisherman's line, which allows the fish the illusion of free play in the water and yet has him by the hook; in his own time the fisherman by a 'twitch upon the thread' draws the fish to land."This is the third of six articles relating the writer's journey into the bosom of the one, holy, catholic, and apostolic church. having succumbed to spiritual desolation following the rejection of his adventist heritage, the young seeker investigates various christian traditions, hoping to discover the truth.
Autobiography, by g.k. chesterton, free ebook. iv.—how to be a lunatic. i deal here with the darkest and most difficult part of my task; the period of youth which is full of doubts and morbidities and temptations; and which, though in my case mainly subjective, has left in my mind for ever a certitude upon the objective solidity of sin.

Catechism of the catholic church. in his introduction to the catechism of the catholic church, john paul ii describes it as a 'reference text' for the church, giving an accessible account of all the catholic doctrine to do with faith and morals. But in many other areas, jung scorned the hide-bound ways of the catholic church and its intransigence in defense of trinitarian, christological, and mariological dogmas.
